

CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS OF THE BLACK CAUCUS OF THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION (As Amended on June 25th, 2017)

CONSTITUTION

Preamble

Whereas, there exists a critical lag in the development of librarianship for Blacks, and

Whereas, there are inadequate outlets for studies and reports dealing with issues relating to Black American citizens, and

Whereas, the library profession in general and the American Library Association (ALA) in particular have been slow in responding to the problems of Black people,

Therefore, we the Black members of the American Library Association have banded together to form this organization.

January 21, 1970

Article I. Name

This organization shall be known as the Black Caucus of the American Library Association (BCALA).

Article II. Purpose

The Black Caucus of the American Library Association is organized exclusively to promote the development of library and information services for African Americans and other people of African descent.

Specific purposes of the Black Caucus shall be:

1. To call to the attention of the American Library Association the need to respond positively on behalf of the Black members of the profession and the information needs of the Black community. The Caucus will review, analyze, evaluate, and recommend actions on the needs of Black librarians which will influence their status in the areas of recruitment, development, advancement and general working conditions.
2. To review the records and evaluate the position of candidates for the various offices within ALA to determine their potential impact upon Black librarians and services to the Black community.
3. To actively participate in the activities of the Divisions, Roundtables, and Committees of the American Library Association by active participation within these groups to make sure that they are meeting the needs of Black librarians.
4. To serve as a clearinghouse for Black librarians in promoting wider participation by Black librarians at all levels of the profession and the Association.

5. To support and promote efforts to achieve meaningful communication and equitable representation in state library associations and on the governing and advisory boards of libraries at state and local levels.
6. To facilitate library service that meets the informational needs of Black people.
7. To encourage the development of authoritative information resources about Black people and the dissemination of this information to the larger community.
8. To open up channels of communication to and through Black librarians in every entity of the American Library Association.

Article III. Limitations

The Black Caucus shall engage exclusively in such educational, charitable, and scientific activities as will qualify it for exemption from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (or corresponding sections of any future federal tax code).

Article IV. Membership

Section 1: Membership in the Black Caucus of the American Library Association shall be open to any person interested in library and information services who is willing to maintain good financial standing with the organization in accordance with Article IX, Section 1.

Section 2: It shall be the policy of the Black Caucus to encourage its members to become members of the American Library Association.

Section 3: Persons from any ethnic group may become members upon payment of the annual membership fee.

Article V. Officers and Their Election

Section 1: The officers of this organization shall be: President, Vice President/President-Elect, Secretary, and Treasurer.

Section 2: The officers shall be elected by secret ballot of membership in accordance with provisions in Article V of the Bylaws.

Section 3: There shall be an Executive Board, elected by the membership, whose duties shall be to assist the President in policy making decisions affecting the organization and to act on behalf of the organization in between regularly scheduled meetings.

Article VI. Meetings

Meetings of the Black Caucus shall coincide with the Annual and Midwinter meetings of the American Library Association.

Article VII. Disposition of Assets

No part of the net earnings of the Black Caucus shall inure to the benefit of, or be distributed to its members, directors, officers or other persons, except that the Black Caucus shall be authorized and empowered to pay reasonable compensation to members, directors, officers, and other persons for services rendered and to make payments and distributions in furtherance of Section 501(c)(3) purposes.

Upon the dissolution of the organization, the Executive Board shall, after paying all of the liabilities of the Black Caucus, dispose of its assets by distributing them to one or more organizations as shall at that time qualify as exempt organizations under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (or corresponding section of any future tax code) as the Executive Board shall determine.

Article VIII. Amendment

The Constitution of this organization may be amended by two-thirds vote of the members responding in a ballot, and shall become effective when ratified by two-thirds of those members present and voting at a membership meeting.
